Editors of Transcript:

In Saturday's edition of the Daily Messenger, I noticed the arrival of the "Ferry Boat" at Plattsburgh, which is to ply between St. Albans Bay and Plattsburgh. Through your "live" daily allow me to inform your Grand Isle and St. Albans patrons, that the steamer "River Queen," Captain J. B. Tobias, cleared for St. Albans Bay this morning. She will commence her regular trips between St. Albans Bay and Plattsburgh in about one week. She is of 122 tons burthen, 106 feet long, and 26 feet wide. She is undergoing repairs and several alterations, which will add to her comfort as a Ferry boat. Captain Tobias is well known on the Lake as a gentleman, and in whom the public, who feel disposed to take a trip with him, can place entire confidence. Now that you have a "Ferry" established between St. Albans and Plattsburgh, let it be supported.

Yours &c.,
ALPHA.

SEIZURES.—Deputy Collector Chase seized, a few days ago, four ear loads of rossed hemlock bark, which had been shipped from Granby, for Danvers, Mass. It was seized for undervaluation, having been entered at $4 per cord, and being worth about $19 per cord. There were 45 cords of the bark, though it was entered at 40. The bark business don't seem to be prosperous.

Catharine Webster, of the great city of New York, has a fancy for the silk trade, and in the employ of parties in New York has been bringing over silks from Canada. St. Albans is a bad place for such people to stop at, and therefore grief came to Mrs. Webster when she stopped here. About $500 worth of silk came into the possession of the Customs officers, which was in her possession, and she was detained, examined before U. S. Commissioner Rand to-day, and held to bail in the sum of $700. She is now with the other women mentioned by us a few days ago, lodging in the county hotel. That institution will have to be enlarged and improved soon, as things are going.

DROWNED.—Fred Sprague, a young man 18 years of age, was drowned at Richmond last night while in bathing with others. One of his companions came near sharing his fate in attempting to rescue him.

THE Addison County Court adjourned on Monday, after an interesting session. A verdict of $700.00 was rendered against the Rutland and Burlington Railroad for injuring cattle in transportation.

ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday, 16th inst., as Mr. John P. Dewey, of this village was leading a spirited horse behind his wagon from North Montpelier, the horse became frightened, and jumped into the wagon, crushing the carriage and breaking several of Mr. Dewey's ribs, and bruising him generally. He is doing well now, however.—Montpelier Journal.

THE June Term of the Orleans County Court commences on Tuesday of next week. One hundred and eight cases have been set for trial by jury.

FRONTIER No. 2, fire company was out last evening in their new and neat uniform and made a very fine appearance. They threw a stream of water a little higher than the liberty pole and the feat was greeted with rounds of applause by the spectators.

A correspondent informs us that the Fourth of July is to be appropriately observed at Enosburgh, but gives us no particulars. We doubt not, however, that the "order of exercises" is all right and that there will be a general good time in that pleasant village. The officers of the day are as follows:

President.—Hon. Geo. Adams.
Vice-Presidents.—W. Draper, II. House.
Marshal.—F. C. Kimball.
Ass't Marshal.—Maj. M. B. Bessey.
Ladies Marshal.—Dr. A. J. Darrah.
Toast Master.—E. J. Tyler.

A CURIOUS NEST.—"Any port in a storm" is an old saying, but no one has supposed that a hen would construe it for her own advantage, and in case of necessity make a nest of the St. Albans post office. But such is the fact. A hen entered the front door of the post office and deposited an egg upon the floor, and then demurely withdrew, a day or two ago. Whether the hen thought that some one in the post office had an equal interest in the egg with herself, or whether she intended to make a deposit in the bank, and being unable to read English made a mistake of one door, and got into the wrong place, we are not prepared to determine. As it is, the egg will probably be sent to the post office department among matter "uncalled-for."

Is it not high time that the grass in the Park was mowed?

Prang's Chromos.

Who is Prang? What are Chromos? are questions that a great many might justly ask. As to the first question, it may be briefly answered as follows:—Louis Prang is a German, born at Breslau, in Prussian Posen, in 1824. His father was a callio printer, and of him young Prang learned the trade, after leaving school at the age of thirteen. He learned to engrave the color blocks for callio printing, on wood, studied practical chemistry as far as it related to his trade, and became a proficient in his business. He was finally engaged to travel in Europe to discover improvements in the line of his business, and visited all the principal cities. When the revolution on the continent, in 1848, broke out, Mr. Prang went back to Prussia and took part with the republican party. It was unsuccessful, and he was proscribed, and fled to Bohemia, to Switzerland, and finally to the United States. Here, after various turns of fortune, he commenced the publication of what are called Chromos. His first successful picture in this line was a chromo of "Chickens," after Tait, and of three pictures by Tait—chickens, quails, and ducklings—he has sold fifty thousand and chromo copies in the United States alone, at about $5 each. He manufactures in Boston, keeps 23 presses in operation, and employs seventy hands, superintended by accomplished workmen, and the hands being also as good workmen as can be found. He is now producing chromos of the finest paintings by American and foreign artists, and so much resembling oil paintings as to be readily taken for such by most people, and at prices which bring the finest pictures within reach of every one.

Early Autumn on Esopus Creek, New York, (After A. T. Bricher)	$6.00

As to the question, what are chromos? We answer: They are fac-simile representations of oil and water color paintings, so faithfully and skillfully done that it requires the experience of an expert to detect the difference between them and the originals.

For every purpose of decoration,—for parlors, sitting-rooms, drawing-rooms, nurseries, or chambers,—nothing so exquisitely beautiful as these Chromos can be obtained for the same amount of money. No other ornaments of the same cost are so admirably calculated to adorn a home; to cultivate a love for Art among the people at large; to brighten up the dwellings of every class of our citizens; and to teach the rising generation, by their silent yet refining influence, to love the beautiful in Art and in nature.

Now, it is quite possible that those who read this would like to examine the pictures spoken of for themselves; and they are certainly worth examining. Well, nothing is easier. Nearly or quite all the pictures we have given a list of may be found in the show case at the store of H. Livingston & Sons, in St. Albans; some of them neatly and elegantly framed. Take a look at them, and thank fortune that you have been introduced to a little picture gallery which can only give you pleasure to contemplate, and whose influence upon heart and home can only be delightful, elevating, and good.

The Messrs. Livingston have made arrangements whereby they can furnish these pictures at as cheap rates as they can be bought for in any place, in or out of the cities.

We have received from Henry Clark, Esq., Secretary of the Vt. State Agricultural Society and Wool Grower's Association the Premium List of the Eighteenth Annual Fair which will be held at Burlington Sept. 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th, 1868.

OGDENSBURGH & LAKE CHAMPLAIN R. R.—The annual meeting of the Ogdenburgh and Lake Champlain Railroad Company was held at the Company's office in Ogdenburgh on the 16th, and the following named persons were unanimously elected Directors, receiving 12,144 votes: John C. Pratt, Jacob W. Pierce, John F. Farlow, Geo. M. Barnard, Horace Hunnewell, Thomas Upham, S. M. Felton, E. T. Farrington, William C. Brown, J. D. Farnsworth, Arthur Williams, Calvin T. Hulbert and Albert Andrus.

THE Supreme Court of the State of New York within a few days, in the suit instituted by the Attorney General in behalf of the people against the Northern Railroad Company, had adjudged that corporation to be dissolved, and convicted Lansing Chamberlain and others of a violation of the statute prohibiting the usurping of a franchise, the penalty for which is a fine not exceeding $2000. The amount is to be hereafter fixed.

At the present time there is much competition among Life Insurance Companies, and many agents are far too regardless of the truth, in statements when soliciting for risks, hence it is all important for persons intending to insure their lives, to insure only with agents whom they know to be reliable, again it is always most satisfactory for parties assured to have their risks with Local agents, then there is no difficulty or danger of loss in transmitting premiums. Persons intending to insure their lives will find it for their advantage to see the agent of the Guardian Mutual before insuring elsewhere.
